

INTERFERENCE WITH NEUTRALS NOT UNJUST

ing complaint on this score, it is pointed out, that arrangements were made for the British embassy here to advise without delay, American shippers whether their cargoes probably would be subject to detention.

Another point made by the allies is the capture of ships' papers have changed completely owing to modern commercial methods, so that no longer can they be relied upon to supply all the evidence necessary to establish the character of a cargo and its liability to seizure. The practice of consigning goods to order, or to individuals in neutral countries, who are not the real consumers of the goods, but are actually delivery agents and forwarders to the enemy country, has made it necessary in cases where neutral ships are detained, to refer their cases to prize courts for examination instead of accepting the ships' papers at their face value.

Some complaint by the United States that the prize courts cannot be recognized as competent to render final decisions in the cases of detained vessels and cargoes, is met by reference to the recent decision in England to the effect that prize courts must be governed by the principles of international law, and where orders in council conflict, the latter must give way.

There is also, it is pointed out, an acknowledgement of the right of the neutral power whose ship is seized to appeal to the highest judicial tribunal and even to take up the case diplomatically if dissatisfied. This it was pointed out was the position submitted by the United States government during the Civil War in the Bermuda cases, when the British government waited three years for a decision of the United States supreme court, in the cases of the Spring Rock.

(By Review Leased Wire)
EL PASO, Texas, April 20.—On Monday the Chihuahua City newspapers printed dispatches, supposed to have come from Juarez, stating that President Wilson was about to deliver an ultimatum to Germany and that war would be declared within a week. This information was brought here today by arrivals from Chihuahua who brought copies of the paper in which the dispatches appeared.

The arrivals said that the news of the crisis between Germany and the United States was common talk in Chihuahua on Sunday, 48 hours before the facts were made public in this country. On Monday, an American who visited General Gutierrez was greeted with this remark: "Well I suppose the Mexican situation has become a minor importance now that the United States is going to war with Germany."

The Americans who returned here said that the Mexicans were being kept fully acquainted with every step in the negotiations between Berlin and Washington through an official agency in Mexico City and that they knew more about the crisis of the United States and Germany than they did about the Pursuit of Villa.

Major J. M. Carpio, of General Obregon's staff who is spending his honeymoon here, issued a statement tonight denying the reported stories that General Obregon is hostile to the United States. The last of these stories, and one which received wide circulation, was that Carranza's minister of war has issued a petition calling on all Mexicans to unite and drive the Americans from Mexico. Major Carpio said such proclamation had never been issued.

KANSAS WEATHER BAD.
TOPEKA, Kas., April 20.—Weather conditions in Kansas, which, late yesterday, caused a series of tornadoes bring death and injury and property damage of thousands of dollars in many towns, changed today and brought a great rain in most parts of the state. No reports of additional deaths or destruction from wind storms had been received here early tonight and the number remained at seven. The property loss in the state was estimated to be more than $100,000.

Telephone and telegraph companies were busy late today repairing the damage that had been done to wires by tornadoes yesterday in Bourbon county, Jackson county and Woodson county. Uniontown, a small town in Bourbon county, was cut off from communication and it was impossible to receive a report from there.

NO IMMUNITY IN VON IGEL CASE POSSIBLE

government, who now is in custody, giving full details of his activities in America.

The statement bristles with dates and names of places and of persons associated with him. The government pretenses it with a memorandum relating to von der Goltz' identity and the manner of his arrest in England.

The memorandum says that when von der Goltz was shown a check signed by Captain von Pagen, the former military attaché of the German embassy at Washington, which had been seized at Flimsouth, he admitted his endorsement and asked to be allowed to make a voluntary statement. He was thereupon given writing materials and spent the night of January 31 in compiling a statement to which he afterwards swore.

The government's memorandum remarks: "Von der Goltz' statement finds detailed corroboration in the von Pagen checks which he cannot have known were in the possession of the British authorities."

The statement of von der Goltz, as given out by the government, is, in part, as follows:

"On August 3, 1914, I left the Mexican army on leave and arrived in El Paso, where Consul Kuck directed me to report to von Pagen. I arrived in New York in mid-August. I visited Vice Consul Kraske, who suggested that I avoid being seen about the consulate, and he would notify me when to meet von Pagen. A few days later I met von Pagen. I was asked my opinion of a scheme suggested by a certain Schummacher, for raising loans on the coast of the Great Lakes with a motor boat armed with machine guns. The proposal later was rejected owing to the embassy receiving information about Schummacher."

"I was then requested to assist in a scheme for the invasion of Canada by a force recruited from reservists in the United States, aided by German warships then in the Pacific."

"This scheme, which was proposed by von Pagen and Boy-Ed, later was abandoned on the advice of Bernstorff. Next von Pagen asked me to confer with two retainers and proposed the dynamiting of railway junctions, grain elevators and the locks of the canals connecting the Great Lakes. It was hoped thus to terrify Canada, preventing the dominion from aiding the mother country."

"I received the Irishmen who brought maps and details of the plan. Before going to Baltimore to consult Consul Leuderitz I employed one man, Chas. Tucker, alias, Tuchsheimer, as an assistant. I then went to Baltimore and consulted Leuderitz, who obtained passport in the name of Taylor. He also introduced me to the captain of a German ship at that time in the harbor proposing that I make use of part of his crew and one officer."

"Returning to New York I selected three men to assist me and acquainted them with part of the details of the Scheme. I received a check from von Pagen, which was cashed for me by Mr. Stallford, a member of a German club."

"Regarding the material, arms and dynamite needed, von Pagen informed me that Captain Tauscher, of Krupp's agency, had agreed to furnish them. I saw Tauscher. He gave a letter of introduction to the Dupont Powder company recommending B. H. Taylor and supplied men with an order to the man in charge of dynamite barges lying on the New Jersey side of the Statue of Liberty. Tauscher told me he would send pistols by messenger to Hoboken to be delivered there to one of my agents at a certain restaurant."

"In order to get dynamite it was necessary to hire a motor boat and a place near 145th Street, Harlem, and put the dynamite aboard in suitcases. After getting the explosives, I went by taxicab with two suitcases to the German club and saw von Pagen. I then took the dynamite to my rooms, where I also kept a portion of the arms packed in a small portmanteau. The remainder were in the keeping of two agents, one being Mr. Pritzen, the discharged purser of a Russian steamer, the other Mr. Busse, a commercial agent who formerly lived in England."

"The only other agent I employed was C. Covani, who attended me personally, Tucker not being entrusted with any of these things."

"Two or three days later I received from von Pagen a supply of generators and wire which I took to my rooms. A few days later we left for Buffalo, Pritzen, Busse and Tucker taking care of the munitions, Covani attending men."

"In Buffalo I hired rooms at 189 Delaware Avenue. I had the dynamite brought there and spent some days gathering information about the precautions taken by Canadian officers. Then I myself and my agents went to Niagara Falls, N. Y. September 15."

"While still in Buffalo I received a telegram from von Pagen informing me that a lawyer, John Ryan, had money and instructions. I received the money but no instructions. Being thrown on my own resources, I determined to reconnoiter the terrain where I wanted to act but on the twenty-fifth Ryan summoned me."

"Having received privately information that the first Canadian contingent had left Valcartier camp, I knew I should be recalled as the object of my enterprise was thus removed. Ryan handed me a telegram of recall. As my funds were insufficient, I discharged Busse and Pritzen at Buffalo and left the munitions in the keeping of the manager of Pels restaurant at Niagara Falls. I was now ordered to proceed to Germany. I directed Covani to remove from the house at 112 or 115-Fifteenth Street, N. Y., two suitcases filled with dynamite. Whether he complied, I do not know as I sailed the eighth of October for Italy. Since that time I have had no communication with von Pagen.

"I received no remuneration excepting when paid for the trip to Niagara Falls. I was frequently present when von Pagen received information from and paid money to men who came to see him about matters connected with Germany. He told he was short of money until Dr. Dernberg arranged matters."

The statement ends as follows: "I make these statements on the distinct understanding that the statements are not to be used against me, that I will not be prosecuted for participating in any action against the allies, and promise has been made to me that I am not to be extradited to any country where I am liable to punishment for offenses."

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind for Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.
